

F1XF HELMET

The Gallet F1XF Helmet sets the new standard for fire-fighter's head protection and comfort. Dedicated to structural fire-fighting in buildings, tunnels and other structures, it fulfills the growing requirements of fire soldiers in all urban and industrial operations, protection against fire, heat, falling objects, fumes, projections of chemical products and molten metal, etc.

With the reinforced shock absorption system and its new face shield, it keeps its unique style and remains the reference fire-fighting helmet throughout the world

Approvals & Certifications:

- Tested according to EN 443:2008, type B.
- Faceshield approved to EN 14458

Features:

- Ergonomic, well balanced design, providing unmatched comfort in all operating conditions
- Effective, intuitive and robust adjustment mechanisms, ensuring optimal fit for all user profiles
- Comfortable, high-performance face protection with excellent coverage, clear or gold coating
- Extended thermal and mechanical protection even in extremely hot conditions
- Fully integrated lighting module with unique distribution of light and weight, supporting work and safe navigation in the dark

Specifications:
Size Range:	53 to 64 cm with ratchet & standard cradle
Weight:	1550g (Helmet without neck curtain)
Shell:	Injected copolyamid shell integrating fixation supports for accessories
Inner Padding:	Made in PU for shock absorption and perforation resistance, together with a thermocompressed foam inner padding for a better comfort
Chinstrap:	3 points, adjustable padded chinstrap, allowing the quick adjustment of a respiratory mask
Eye Protection / Visors:	2 retractable visors (Home position under the shell) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Face shield EN14458 (Transparent or Gold) • Eye guard EN166 (Polycarbonate)
Integrated Lamp Fixtures:	Both left and right with integrated lamp fixtures
Integrated Lighting Module	4 white LEDs with optimal shortrange coverage